Announcements Regarding Opening of Hamlin Schools

Principal Frank M. Lawlis of the High School, and Hubert Morton, principal of the elementary school, are mapping their plans for the formal opening of their respective schools September 4, 1939. Schedules are being drawn, registration plans are being formulated, assignments and grade placements are being considered.

One new teacher, R. H. Campbell, recently elected vocational agriculture teacher for the Hamlin school system for 1939-40 is already on the job getting his work in shape. He fills the vacancy created by the resignation of M. B. Templeton, who has served the Hamlin schools for the past two years.

Will J. Reynolds and Travis Conner are busily engaged getting the buildings in shape for the opening of school. Recent improvements about the high school building include some painting, some new fixtures, and the repair of some used equipment.

Improvements at the elementary school include the surfacing and refinishing of over fifty desks, the repair of the seating equipment in the study hall and auditorium, the furnishing of at least one new room and some improvement in the heating arrangement. Many minor changes in the physical characteristics of the elementary building are being made that it may be more satisfactory and conducive to good work.

Further announcements regarding the opening, plans for registrations and enrollment will appear in a later issue.

ANOTHER BATCH OF YOUNG FISHES RECD.

Last Friday Chuck McCurdy brought 14,000 young Bass and Bream from the San Angelo Federal Fish Hatchery and placed them in the West Lakes to grow and become objects of angling within a few years. 14,000 fish should mean a lot of fishing for somebody, sometime.

Placing fish in the lakes now is not such a hazzard as in former years. A dry lake means loss of all fish. It is the hope now that before any dry spell could get all the water in the old lakes, the new lake will be done and filled with good water, leaving the old lakes water for the fish.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Hassen and girls left Tuesday for the Dallas Dry Goods market. The two smaller girls stopped at Moran for a visit with F. N. Hassen and family.

Mrs. J. C. Bledsoe Died At Her Home On Union Avenue, Early Monday

Mrs. J. C. Bledsoe, the wife of a former mayor of Hamlin, the late Mayor J. C. Bledsoe, passed away at her home on Union Avenue, Monday morning at 4:00 o'clock, following a number of years of invalid life.

Mrs. Bledsoe, whose maiden name was Delia Mae Taylor, was born on April 23, 1870, in Fannin County. She was educated in Bonham, and on September 13, 1893 she was married to J. C. Bledsoe, who made their home for many years at Bailey in that county. Surviving are two sons, Ted Bledsoe of Hamlin, James Russell Bledsoe of Hobart, Okla., and Mrs. Jack Dickey of Albany. One daughter, Frank, died at the age of 18. There are six grand-children.

The Bledsoe family moved to Hamlin more than twenty years ago. They bought what was then known as the George W. Gray home, one of the most substantial residences in Hamlin, and later Mr. Bledsoe became Mayor of Hamlin and till his death the family figured prominently in the civic affairs of this city. The late J. C. Bledsoe also acquired farm interests west of Hamlin and also north of town, and one of the early oil wells west of town was on Mrs. Bledsoe's farm.

Mrs. Bledsoe had been confined to her home most of the time since the death of her husband. She suffered much.

Monday evening at six o'clock, a short funeral service was held at the residence in the presence of close neighbors and relatives. Rev. Hanks, pastor of the Methodist church and Rev. J. Henry Littleton, conducted the services. The body remained in the home till early Tuesday morning when the Barrow Funeral Directors started for the old family community at Bailey, in Fannin County, for burial, in the afternoon of Tuesday.

Mrs. Bledsoe was a woman of charming personality, a member of the Methodist Church from early childhood, a woman who bore her afflictions for years, with a courage remarkable for her age.

A number of old friends and near relatives from out of town were present for the funeral, among them were Mr. and Mrs. Levi Wilson of Cisco, formerly of Hamlin; Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Gibson, of Abilene, formerly of Hamlin; Mr. and Mrs. Grady Bowdry and their parents of Stamford; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brownfield of Stamford.

HAMLIN HAS JUST ABOUT GOT 4 INCHES OF PROMISED RAIN

Believe it or not . . . Hamlin has about received her promised "FOUR" inches of rain since that day when we looked up north and saw that long, wet-looking cloud headed this way.

Showers of rain we are getting, Showers of rain we need, Showers of rain are helping, Showers of rain will make feed.

Yes S-I-r-ee, Tuesday afternoon Hamlin was right in line with another big rain, a rain that put more water in our streets than in a long time. How much? Who knows, for there is not a rain gauge in the community. All we can tell you is that we got enough to fill all the mosquito ditches full to the brim, call it what you may, an inch, inch and half, maybe two. Hamlin people welcome such rains and have already received THREE such since we spoke about the "Four" inches. Guess we have got all we asked for. But the miserable country that has not happened to get such showers. It seems it rains easy enough and maybe too easy. A little cloud gathers and all of a sudden it pours out and travels but very little. Such spots are being helped, and will show up fine in a few weeks with the unlucky spots.

The showers however have been coming so frequently that most of the country is getting relief. Right here in town everything looks like the tropics. Frogs are having a big party every night now, and lawn mowers are going to be needed right away. Days are getting shorter and nights longer and cooler, and a little rain does more good than earlier in the summer. Let 'er shower.

THEY WANT HAMLIN DOLLARS

This week, ye Editor chanced to notice a whole floor truck full of packed mail pouches in the Hamlin Post Office—23 full sacks of catalogues—each one and one-half inches thick, nicely wrapped and addressed to individuals in Hamlin and all box users on our four routes out of Hamlin.

TWENTY-THREE sacks of advertising matter, done out in eye-catching colors—household books that will cause each and every member to study over long and yearningly, as the summer days shade out into fall and then the long winter nights the appealing pull of those "cheap prices" and wonderful (?) articles will dwell on the minds of thousands of people.

It does pay to advertise—although some people do not believe it. The people who put their faith in goods advertised in some distant town, have become accustomed to the huge catalogs, preceding the fall harvest and they know next August a new book will be received—and besides, before then a few small thin "teasers" will be in the mail box. It costs money to assemble a big catalog—the paper, the printing, the binding, the shipping and postage, mounts into the millions.

The only way to off-set this catalog advertising is for the small merchant to use regularly, the small ad system in the local paper, that is read in most every home each week. Yes, it will cost a little—so does "loss of business." Most people buy on suggestion.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Benham and two sons, Jack and Bob of Enterprise, Kan., were visiting with their brother, Henry Jackson and wife over the week-end. Mr. Benham is connected with a machinery Co. in Kansas and while in this part of the state they visited their parents at Coahoma and brother in Rotan.

Earl Temple and family of Lamesa, came down to spend the week-end with his father, W. N. Temple and his sisters, Miss Ella Temple, and Mrs. Hibbs Millsap. Earl says his county has all the rain they need and crops look fine.

Little Misses Jacquilyn and Creola Rector of Spur spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jackson. Their parents came for them Sunday.

142 NAMES ADDED TO JONES COUNTY OLD AGE ROLL

According to J. Luther Watson, Anson, the Old Age Assistance worker for Jones and Shaleford Counties, 142 have registered under the amended law in Jones County. Applications of those registered are being taken as rapidly as is possible while other regular work is being carried on, and it apparently will be months before the last ones registered can be reached.

The County Rolls for July have not been sent out by the State Office, but in June 536 recipients received checks totaling $8,321.00, which is a nice sum for Jones county. The number of Jones county recipients has been increasing gradually during the past 12 months.

The worker's regular office days are the second and fourth Wednesdays each month in the County Court Room at Anson; however he will be away on vacation the second Wednesday in August. These office days are set aside for interviewing recipients and applicants and other interested persons, and the worker asks that office calls be made only on regular office days since they provide sufficient time for all visits and since the worker will either be busy with routine office work or else out in the field in his two counties. All workers are greatly overloaded and must work with maximum speed and minimum interruptions in order to meet the requirements.

Salesmen Help Farmers

Last winter the producers of dried fruits found themselves in a critical condition. Approximately 17 per cent more prunes and 29 per cent more raisins were to be offered for sale than the maximum expected consumption under normal conditions. And raisins and prunes constitute approximately 82 per cent of all dried fruit tonnage.

The producers turned to a proven ally—the mass distributors of food products. The result was a special consumer-producer dried fruit sale divided into two periods, one in November and the other in January.

The results of those sales were recently surveyed—and they provide a notable example of what aggressive retailing means to agriculture. The participating stores advertised dried fruits in hundreds of newspapers. They built attractive displays, and decorated their windows with banners, posters and other promotional material. They issued handbills and other literature. And reports now show that prune sales increased 32 per cent over the same two months a year before; raisin sales increased 26.4 per cent; apricot sales increased 7.8 per cent; peach sales increased 54 per cent and fig sales 197 per cent.

This is no isolated example of what happens when the men who produce commodities get together with the men who sell them. Similar campaigns, with equally notable success, have been carried on for many other "distressed" crops and products. And food stores have not been the only participants. Department, variety, hardware, clothing and other stores have co-operated as well, to help the good cause along.

What it all sums up to is more money for farmers and workers — more advertising for newspapers — more jobs for printers—and, finally, benefits for the consumer, who is encouraged to broaden and improve his diet, and who is given fine quality articles at prices made possible only by mass turnover, and the elimination of all possible middlemen and "in-between" costs. It's a case where everyone benefits.—Industrial News.

What are the qualities that have made Americans from 1776 to 1939 great? Enterprise, hard work, courage, tolerance, fair-play and generosity, and these latter virtues should not be forgotten when considering the plight of our great farming class who form the back-bone of this nation's prosperity; of our youth who are the hope of the future; of our unemployed who deserve the best thought of our builders, and for the aged fathers and mothers who have laid the foundation of the civilization of which we are a part.

Walter Love Named Member of the FSA Advisory Committee

The appointment of Walter Love as a member of the advisory committee to select tenants who will receive farm purchase loans has been announced by the Farm Security Administration. Walter Love takes the place filled last year by James E. Spurgin whose term has expired.

Applications for loans for the present fiscal year have closed. 151 tenants, share croppers, and farm laborers in Jones county applied.

The committee is now busy selecting the applicants whom they consider best qualified to meet the requirements of the Bankhead-Jones Act which authorizes the loans.

ALL THAT FUSS BY SNYDER BOOSTERS

Hamlin's main street was handed a sample of Snyder's loud tooting and auto racing, Monday morning about ten o'clock.

It seemed that they wanted Hamlin people to know Snyder was on the map yet and that a rodeo was to be pulled off.

Cars were literally tattooed with spots of color—dogs racing, ponies bucking, roping stunts, and Rodeo—Rodeo. Speed limit did not prevail then.

They paused for a welcome talk from Ted Russell, Cashier of the bank and President of the Chamber of Commerce. Those Snyder fellows were having a great time.

Mrs. J. F. Matchett Died Sun. Near Golan

Mrs. J. F. Matchett, the wife of the late J. F. Matchett, a prominent farmer of the Flat Top community, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Stephens, in the Golan community in the southwestern corner of Jones County, Sunday morning, August 13, age 71 years, 2 months and 27 days.

Funeral services were conducted at the Hamlin Methodist Church, Monday afternoon, by the pastor, H. W. Hanks.

Mrs. Matchett was born May 16, 1868. Her maiden name was Mary Lou Wallace. She was married to J. F. Matchett, April 21, 1888. The husband passed away on November 9, 1936. The following children survive: Mrs. Stephens of the Golan community; Bill Matchett of Hamlin; Riley and Paul Matchett and Miss Daisy Matchett of Oregon. Only the first two were able to reach Hamlin in time for the funeral.

Burial was in the Hamlin East Cemetery, under the direction of the Barrow Company.

OMAR T. BURLESON,
County Judge; by Order of (42-43) The Commissioners Court

Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Wright of Lubbock were guests of their sister, Mrs. Maude Fizer Sunday.

Monday evening about 7:30 or 8:00 o'clock, Mitt Tidwell, prominent farmer residing in the edge of South Hamlin, was found dead by a fence separating a small pasture from his field. A single barrel 410 gauge gun lay back from the fence a foot or more.

Investigation by Justice of the Peace Grogan Turner established a verdict of accidental death from the gun while getting through the fence.

The Tidwell farm home is a modern place set back some distance from what is known as the Hamlin-Neinda road that passes through the South Hamlin Addition. Monday morning Mr. Tidwell left the house to go to the pasture on the north side of Highway 83 known as gyp hill) to kill an old useless horse, that was sick or crippled. Mrs. Tidwell and her daughter, Mrs. Alvis Mayo of Big Spring were at the house. By noon or one o'clock Mr. Tidwell had not returned and only a casual look out about the barns and lots was taken and they thought perhaps Mitt had caught a car and gone to the home of his sister, Mrs. Barney Beavers in the Neinda community.

But when night came on and Mr. Tidwell was not there to milk the cows as usual, his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Mayo and the son Lewis Tidwell became concerned and started out to look in the direction they knew he had gone and should return. Not many hundred yards east of the barns they found the body by the fence. A doctor's belief was that he had been dead perhaps eight or nine hours.

The wound that evidently caused instant death was somewhat over the heart, indicating that the gun was pointing downward somewhat—just about the angle one would be pulling a gun through the wire fence. Perhaps the clothing caught and caused a stumble and a jerk of the gun.

It was found that Mr. Tidwell had killed the old horse with one shot and had perhaps crossed back south over the paved highway and had taken a circle out into the field and up to the fence to go on in home.

Mitt Tidwell was a likeable fellow, a good farmer and everything made him a man of much prominence in the Hamlin community.

Mr. Tidwell was born in Murray, Kentucky, Dec. 10, 1890 and thus was 48 years, 8 months and 4 days of age. He came to Texas with his parents, the late J. F. Tidwell and wife in 1900 and settled near Neinda.

Mitt was married to Miss Effie Lewis in Chillicothe, Texas, in 1912 and to this union are three children: Mrs. Alvis Mayo and Miss Nita Tidwell of Big Spring and Lewis Tidwell, age 16 at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Tidwell moved to the J. F. Tidwell home in the edge of Hamlin in 1934.

Besides the wife and three children, one brother, Pete Tidwell of Paducah and one sister, Mrs. Barney Beavers of Hamlin survive and one grand-child, Jo Ann Mayo, age 6 of Big Spring.

Mr. Tidwell was a member of the Neinda Baptist church. The funeral was held there Tuesday afternoon, in charge of the pastor, Rev. Gray, of Goree.

The body was in charge of the Barrow Company and interment was in the Neinda Cemetery.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

This is not anything to think about very much, but it needs a correction: The Herald last week had a certain man's wife going off to Hico with Clinton Barrow, to attend a pioneer gathering of that community. To start a sentence with "Mr. and accidentally let an "s" become attached it makes a strange and an embarrassing situation. Yes, sir—e it was the old man who went to Hico and not the wife.

MAYBE STATE LAWS

ARE HURTING BUSINESS

"Dear Mr. Pope:

"In reference to the advertising referred to in yours of August 11, the papers are on what we call our merchandise schedule, which is published in towns where we have a merchandise store. Unfortunately, we do not have a merchandise store in Hamlin and consequently cannot run the merchandise schedule in your paper. This store was one of a number that were closed because of the chain store tax. Your paper is on the same schedule that we run in all towns where we do not have a merchandise display. I am sorry about this, but the law does not permit us to do anything else. Possibly some time in the future this may be changed.

"I am glad you called this to my attention to give me an opportunity to explain the situation. We shall continue to do all that we can in the way of advertising in your paper.

"Kind regards."

The above is from the advertising director of one of the great companies in Texas—proof enough that somebody has 'killed the goose that lays the golden egg."

TOO CLOSE TO RIDE

TOO FAR TO WALK

County Superintendents of Public Instruction throughout the State are calling attention to the provision in the rural aid bill eliminating all children residing within a radius of two and a half miles of the school from the privilege of using the free bus transportation. This has been a feature of the Texas equalization legislation for a number of years, but was just another of those bologna provisions no one took very seriously.

But in the 46th regular session the economy bloc in the executive session of the free conference committee succeeded in putting teeth into the proposition by making it not only possible but mandatory upon the legislative joint advisory committee to withhold funds where infractions occur.

This asinine arrangement will force thousands of rural school children to walk on the highways—a practice condemned by safety experts as the greatest traffic hazard in the transportation decalogue. It originated with representatives from metropolitan areas who contended that if city children could walk two and a half miles to school, country youngsters should not object to the exercise.

They overlooked an important factor. Urban children have sidewalks, or esplanades, to travel upon, with traffic lights to protect them at crossings. But on the highway it is a drainage ditch or sloping shoulder.

Enforcement of this economy requisite is certain to increase traffic accidents, and with the death of one Texas school child because of it the joint legislative advisory committee, those who served on the free conference committee, the economy bloc members, and every legislator who let this iniquitous requirement slip through, will have the blood of that little one upon their hands. They might as well face that fact beforehand—for the people will rise up and let them know about it when the mangled, lifeless form of a youngster is hurled from the highway.—Capital News.

Mrs. Henry Jackson returned recently from a trip to California and the great fair in San Francisco.

McCAULEY MATTERS

By JOHN P. HARDESTY

A. H. Winkles and family of Shafter, Calif., are spending some days visiting Mrs. Winkles' parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Alexander, and other relatives.

Boy Scouts making the trip to Galveston last week were: Jim Boyd, Buddy Gibson, Tom B. Jeffrey, John Hendrickson, Bennie Ray Jones, Doyle Jones, Rex Jones, Virgil Lawlis, W. T. Lawlis, Billy Pickron, Norris Shira, and G. A. White. Accompanying them were Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Powers, Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Miers, and G. A. Lawlis. The party visited Austin, San Antonio, Houston and the San Jacinto battle field on the trip, which all acclaim was a very enjoyable one.

We are sorry to report John W. Rector somewhat indisposed this week. It does not seem right not to see "Uncle John," as he is affectionately called, in the store or on the street. Here's hoping his illness may be only temporary.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Rector motored to Abilene Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner Beard, of Irene, visited the Rectors, and other relatives from Friday to Monday.

James Fancher, of the U. S. Navy, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fancher for some days, has returned to his duties at Annapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cooper and son Charles, of Coleman, were visitors with the W. B. Mayo family last week end, and attended the revival services at the tabernacle Sunday. The Coopers were residents of McCauley for many years. Sam is secretary of the Coleman Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Mayo is Sam's sister.

The M. L. Akins had as guests last week end their daughter, Mrs. Cleo McCloud and her husband, Mr. McCloud. Another daughter spending her vacation with the Akins is Lillian, who works at Abilene.

The Hardestys had as their guests their children and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. John A. White, Austin; Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Hutto and daughters, Emily Frances and Erma Nell, of Dallas, and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Martin, Big Spring.

Mrs. J. M. Humphries has been removed to the Hamlin hospital for treatment. Mrs. Humphries has been confined to her bed for more than two months, part of the time in a Sweetwater hospital, and part of the time in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Willard Maberry. Her many friends hope that she may soon be able to return to her McCauley home. The Humphries desire to express through this column their deep gratitude to all the friends who have ministered to Mrs. Humphries in so many ways during these weeks of her illness.

The Methodist revival begins this Friday night at the tabernacle. It is hoped that the spirit and beautiful co-operation that obtained in the Baptist revival shall continue in this meeting.

The Baptist revival closed Sunday night. 17 were added to the church. 15 for baptism. Rev. J. R. Balch, of Seymour, was at his best and did a monumental work in our community. As a token of appreciation the congregation made an offering of seventy dollars to him and his family, along with some canned goods, fresh vegetables, etc. Bro. Balch's sons, Judson and Lemuel, came down Sunday evening, attended the night service, and took their father home after the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Burl Bunkley and their little daughter, attended the Newcomb annual family reunion at Ft. Griffin last week end, August 11, 12, and 13th. For many years the Newcombs, Sam, Tull, and Art, and their families meet at the ranch of Sam Newcomb for this gathering. Mrs. Marvin Cobb, of Haskell county, is a sister of the Newcombs, and the mother of Mrs. Bunkley. Some 250 people were in attendance at the reunion this year.

At the hour of this writing, "Uncle John" Maberry is reported to be nearing the end of his life of 88 years on this earth. For some weeks Mr. Maberry has been seriously ill. All that the hearts and hands of his loved ones could do for him has been, and is being done. In the passing of this good neighbor and friend McCauley is losing another of the pioneers who built our community so substantially, and he will be mourned by all who have had the privilege to know him.

The McCauley community extends its sympathy to the family and near relatives of the Mitt Tidwells in the tragic death of Mr. Tidwell, which occurred at his home near Hamlin Monday. Mr. Tidwell was found dead from a gun shot wound, presumably from accident. The Tidwells formerly lived about three or four miles

I Give You TEXAS

(By BOYCE HOUSE)

Contrary to the generally accepted saying that people don't care for poetry any more, nearly everyone has a fondness for rhymed words. Most executives—even those who like to consider themselves hard-boiled—have a bit of verse under the glass top of their desks or in a billfold; some such sentiment as: "When the One Great Scorer comes to write against your name, He writes not that you won or lost, but how you played the game."

"United we stand, divided we fall," declared the intoxicated man as he clung to the lamp post.

Well, it's working out all right. None of the concerns affected by the ban on Sunday trucks (of course those doing emergency hauling are not included) opposed the regulation and the traffic on the main highway the first Sunday was materially less, reducing traffic hazards and increasing the enjoyment of families out for a pleasant drive—which was the idea that State Railroad Commissioner Jerry Sadler had in urging the restriction.

And here's an ancient one: A negro couple living in the Florida swamps had a large family and one day the wife ran up and exclaimed, "Sam, an alligator just ate little Rastus." The husband calmly replied, "You know, Mandy, I thought somethin' had been gettin' our children."

You never can tell what kind of impression you are making on a new acquaintance. A couple of years ago Ira Wolfert, famous dramatic critic of North American Newspaper Alliance (and now one of the greatest short story writers in the United States) visited Fort Worth to attend Casa Manana and, as publicity director, I sought to anticipate his every wish as to food, beverage, transportation and entertainment. pitiable assignment and, afterward in his column, Wolfert wrote: "Colonel House could freeze a charging mountain lion in his tracks simply by drawing himself up to his full height and saying, 'Sir, we have not been properly introduced.'"

Clever fellow, Wolfert, always funning!

Austin has the most elaborate battery of traffic signals at busy, zig-zagging corners of any seen by this observer. There is a red light and part of the time it is on, a "walk" light for pedestrians shines. Then there is a green arrow pointing up, which means that cars can drive straight ahead on a red light; a green arrow pointing right or left, meaning you can drive in the direction indicated, even if the signal is red. Besides these, there are the yellow warning light and the green light. But it's not as complicated as it sounds—it couldn't be.

Even more elaborate than the traffic signals are the tooth-pick machines in some of the Austin cafes. The customer presses a lever and one toothpick shoots into view. You have to grab quick or it'll drop back out of sight, proving that the hand is not quicker than the eye.

This contrivance keeps the patron from carrying away two toothpicks instead of one. Since a box of toothpicks costs 10 cents, this loss would amount to perhaps 70 cents in the course of a year. However, this saving is somewhat reduced by the fact that the machine costs $5 or thereabouts and is inclined to get out of order every few weeks, requiring the services of a skilled mechanic armed with a kit of tools as numerous as those of a veterinarian working on a sick racehorse. It's a great age we're living in.

Miss Mary Muncy left Saturday for Fresno, Calif., to spend a month with her brother, Billy T. Muncy. While away she will visit the San Francisco Exposition and other attracting California spots.

Misses Katherine Magee, Nell Reeves, Pauline Gabriel, Vera Berry and Peggy Knight returned Friday from a trip to Carlsbad Caverns. They were accompanied on the trip by Miss Nita Tidwell, of Big Spring.

tarr Inzer Building Modneristic Residence

It is interesting to note that the new construction work is going on in Hamlin. We refer to the residence that Starr Inzer is building on Union Avenue, between the O. Cassle and D. O. Sauls homes. This little structure is called a "garage-house," because the garage is a prominent part of the building. In other words the automobile has become a member of the family, indeed, and therefore must have a room under the roof with the "child."

The chief features about this latest of houses in Hamlin, are that it is very compact, little or no waste space, made to be usable and rent for a nominal price. A "cute" nest for a small family. Many old-fashioned folk will not like this house since it quite a departure from the kind of home long ago when space was liberal. We have reached a day when air-conditioned rooms do not allow the hands of the family quarrel, the cry of the baby, the blare of the radio, the sn-e-e-z-e of the old man to invade the near-by neighbor.

If all the lots in Hamlin were filled, in this close proximity, the population of this fair city would be 9,371, to a gnat's bristle.

While we are "talking" we might tell you that one of Hamlin's best residences, the B. E. Clements house has been dismantled after serving many families for more than thirty years . . . and all timbers as good as a dollar. This also reminds you that there are some very fine building sites in this Hamlin town.

Hull's Players Opened Mon. With Big Crowd

Jimmy Hull's Players spent a nice night program in Hamlin Monday night—playing to a big crowd. Then again on Tuesday and Wednesday nights, presenting a good act, good plays, to good audiences each performance. This company comes to Anson from Hamlin.

Jones County to Have New Paper at Anson

Wednesday District Attorney Otis Miller visited the Herald, accompanied by Thomas Durham, formerly editor of the Merkel Mail.

Mr. Miller introduced himself as the owner and publisher of the soon to be Jones County Observer, to be started in Anson about the first of September, and Mr. Durham was introduced as the to be Editor.

Otis Miller is so well known in Jones County he need not be introduced; and Mr. Durham is almost as well known. He was editor of the first Munday Times, the first Wellington Leader, a long time at Merkel and recently managing editor of the Crane County News.

Miss Beulah Lou Burns, a student in Sul Ross College, Alpine, returned home Friday of last week to spend her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burns.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McCurdy and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Prater spent the past week-end as invited guests of Mrs. Cleve Dunn in the famous Ruidoso resort. All of them are very enthusiastic over the great many summer surprises in that mountain country of New Mexico.

Southern Women Eager to Tell!

"One is bound to be gratified by the enthusiasm of Southern women for CARDUI!" says one of the Touring Reporters now conducting a Query in Southern cities.

"Of the 1297 CARDUI users we have seen so far," she said, "1206—or 93 out of every 100—said it definitely benefitted them!"

CARDUI's remarkable success in helping weak, rundown women who suffer from headache, depression, nervousness, and other symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition, is explained by the way it promotes appetite and digestion, and so builds physical resistance. Try CARDUI!

BOYD CHAPEL CHIRPS

(Mrs. L. F. Cozzen)

Every one is rejoicing over the fine rain we had Monday afternoon. However, it was not a general rain; it didn't reach as many as we wish it had.

The Baptist meeting is in progress at this place now. Everyone is enjoying the splendid preaching being done by Rev. J. H. Skyles of Stamford. The large tabernacle is being well filled each night.

The Rev. John Cory, his mother, Mrs. Joe Cory, and Mrs. McNellis of Fort Worth visited over the week end in the homes of J. P. Cornelius, Mrs. I. E. McClure, Jim Holden and Jim Ferguson.

Rev. John Cory filled the pulpit Saturday night and Sunday morning. Everyone enjoyed his messages so much. At the noon hour the whole connection with several friends had lunch at the tabernacle. Some fifty or more were present to enjoy the fellowship of friends and loved ones.

We are sorry to hear of a car wreck of Bro. Hamilton Wright of Baird, the preacher who did such earnest preaching in our meeting one week ago.

Ernest Cozzen left for Lamesa on Monday morning to be with his brother, Jack, who was to undergo an operation in the Lamesa hospital Tuesday morning.

Ollie Estes and daughter Toby and Betty Cozzen made a flying trip to Post Friday. His daughter, Mrs. Harry Burkett came home with them to visit home folk and attend the meeting.

Mrs. J. E. Foote is spending the week in our community and also attending the meeting.

We are sorry to learn Mrs. J. P. Bingham is not so well at this writing.

Mrs. Lucille Crowder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Allens, has come to spend the summer with them, after a visit to California, Arizona and other points.

Lester Woods is on the sick list in our vicinity this week.

Alfred Dutton and family had for their visitors Monday his mother, Mrs. Dutton of Carlton and little niece Rose Mary Bristow of Abilene.

We are sorry to lose from our community Mr. and Mrs. Elton Pope and daughter Charlotte, who moved to Dallas. We wish them much success in their new place, however, we expect them back. Any one who lives in Boyd Chapel is like the cat who always comes back.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Bingham and little daughter were week end visitors with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bingham and Mrs. G. W. Bristow.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Nichols of Hamlin have been visiting in Boyd Chapel this week.

Mrs. Mattie Lou Rodgers of McCaulley visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bingham, Monday.
